THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN. Joy, Com & Con's Advertising and Commission Agency, 13) Chestner Street, Philadelphia.—This reliable and well conducted establishment has received in a great negree the confidence of both advertisers and publishers. And we are oud to have among us such an enterprising and eserving firm. To our personal knowledge they conduct their extensive business upon the strict principles of interrity. Every publisher's ac-count is plainly stated upon their books, each item exactly corresponding with the different amounts charged each advertiser, and such amounts are faithfully poil over to each publishcommissions accruing. Some very extensive of erations are carried on through this house for advertisers, who wish to publish in a large number of newspapers through the country, and with reat success and salisfaction. This establishment has become an institution among us, and we speak advisedly when we say that it should receive the entire confidence of both publishers and advertisers.-Exchange.

We have had business with the above firm and we take pleasure in indorsing them as correct and prompt in all their dealings, and recommending them to our brethren of the press generally.

We raise this ticket to our mast-head with a pardonalde pride. It is composed of good and true pren- of men honest, equable, and faithful to the Constitution—of men who have been tried in the liery furance of political truth and fidelity and who have come forth doubly reliand. We adopt the language of our friend of the Mays-ville Express, who, in announcing it, says it is composed id men known throughout the length and breadth of the State, and loved and honored wherever they are known; of men whose private characters are not less pure than their public records are honorable and consistent; of men whose nomination by the Convention honors the glorious old Democratic purry, proud as it is and as it ought to be-composed of such men, it will call as a dely to its support the patrictic logious who love Democracy hetter than Black Republicatism or its kindred allies—who love the interests and the h mor of our beloved commonwealth and its sister States better than they do the paltry rewards carned in the service of Northern langue sm. It — Jacy v III will is a strong ticket. It appears for support to the four & Johnson, intelligent and the patractic. It is unobjectionable in all its features. We are proud of it; and dealge it the largest majority ever given by the Democracy.

Of our candidate for G wernor, the Hon.

Beriah Magollin, we have stoken I cely leretofore. He is an accomplished scholar and palshed gentleman, with a heart ever loyal to all the promptings of generosity and honor. He is a man of talents, an orator of a high degree of ability, and a Democrat who has never known any change or shadow of turning. In the dark days of the party, there was never any doubt as to where he was to be found. Harrisonism swept over the State-Taylorism struck terror to many of the "mo-county" politicians—and Know. Nothingism had charms which won many a Democrat make any impression upon the heart of Beriah Magoffin. Steruly true as even Linn Boyd himself, he has stood by Democratic principles am pattled for their success, with a devotion of which his party have a right to be proud. The Frankfort Yeoman says of him: "Magodin is evidently utran his ticket in 1855; as a Presidential elector i 1856 he added a thousand to the majority of is district; and his nomination in the Convention partiality of the people-worthly his due for his many estimable qualities of head and heart-that sach "fu I-blown honors will tipen upon him" on the first Monday in August, as have fallen upon no other man in this State so young in years, un-less we except one now high in office, who is an

Of our condidate for Lieut. Governor, the Hon. L'nn Boyd, what shall we say to the perple of Southern Kentucky, who have known him long and loved lim so well? Around his very name clusters a thousand memories of days gon by, when Jackson battled in deadly struggle with party was assailed by the ginus of the opposition hke gen'us to the defense of State-Rights and the Constitution—when the timid lled all glite and the treatherous deserted, and when our State fell a grey to a default opposition. To that day the memories of hundreds of our old men wa. trivel back in retrospection, and they will re s, or in on which the conjugate never set his food-one shot where the bright and sumy banner of Democracy was ever held about in triumph, choosed by the voices of thousands of unbought an unterined freemen. They will not for forget that an ilst desertion, treacher the eternal hills, and stood the center and no clears around which the shattered hosts of Dem cracy ralled and elong, and murshafed them s lyes for future victory. Old-Line Whigs.

The Opposition are trying to make a point out of the fact that no old line Whig was nomin ited at Frankfort. This was purely an accident, as all present on the occasion are aware. Nearly every delegation voted more than once for an old line Whig. They did not happen to vote for the same one. There was no concert about the mat on the State Helot.

It is well known that the programme was chan ell at Frankfort, by the monimation of the Hon, Lann Boyl for Lieut, Governor. He was outrin by the popular Democrat of Mercer, Ma-goffin. NOTICE.

A. Florence, of Pal, insisted that gentlement could only vote latellizently as to the disposition of the resolutions after hearing them real.

Mr. Carry, of Ala, asked whether this was a contest between the Pennsylvania Democrats and the Right Scaus.

Mr. Florence replied that be had nothing to do with the Demosylvania in Republicans, as such; he was hanse for Democrat, and was alone responsible for his acts, as his votes and speeches would grow in the last thirty-live years.
